

Give us 15 minutes of candor now, avoid hours of misery later.

If you've ever been stuck in an online meeting and thought, "There has to be a better way," here's your chance to help design that better way. The Goodman Center, in partnership with the organizations shown below, is conducting a survey to find out precisely what's working, what's not, and why with web-based convenings.

This is your opportunity to tell us what makes web meetings, webinars, and webcasts engaging, productive and worthwhile for you, and just as importantly, what makes you want to run from the room screaming.

Whether you return to your workplace next week, next month, or next year, web-based convenings are going to remain a significant part of your work life. So please help us collect data now to design a better then. Click here to start the survey and to find out how you can get a free copy of our report with all the results.

Remember: the sanity you save may be your own.
